SPRING 2 WEEK 3

Let God transform you into a new person by changing the way that you think – Romans 12:2 NLT

Dear Parents and Carers,

It has been another amazing week at St. Saviour's. We have had several exciting events this week and we have even more planned for the weeks ahead.

Yesterday, we held our annual Science Symposium. I would like to thank everyone involved: teachers, teaching assistants and of course parents and careers who were able to join us and make it such a successful event. It was wonderful to see families exploring the interactive activities, asking thoughtful questions, and celebrating the creativity and ingenuity of our children.

We were impressed by the incredible range of projects submitted—each one showed imagination, research, and hard work. From 3D models to posters and even videos, the fair was packed with innovation and curiosity. Your encouragement means the world to our young scientists, and we appreciate your time and enthusiasm. We are already excited to see what amazing projects the children create for next year's fair.

Earlier in the week, years 4 and 5 took part in a dance workshop. The children were full of energy and enthusiasm as they learned exciting new moves and explored different dance styles. The sessions were great fun and helped develop confidence, coordination, and teamwork.

These workshops were a part of our unique Young Transformers programme which provides the children of St. Saviour's with transformative experiences across five branches: caring, curiosity, confidence, creativity, and community.

Today, you will have received a letter about parent consultations. We do hope you will be able to join us on either Wednesday 2nd April or Thursday 3rd April. At these evenings, you will be able to meet with your child's stream teacher to hear about their progress in maths, reading and literacy as well as their overall development.

I am pleased to share that our whole-school attendance this week is an excellent 96%. Thank you to all parents and carers for your commitment to ensuring your child is in school every day. Your support makes an enormous difference!

Regular attendance is essential for children's learning and social development. Every school day provides valuable opportunities to build knowledge, confidence, and friendships, and missing even a few days can disrupt progress. By attending consistently, children develop strong routines and a love for learning that benefits them throughout their education. Let us keep up the great effort together!

Finally, I would like to end with a quote from Psalm 133 which reminds us of the importance of unity and working together, "How good and pleasant it is when God's people live together in unity!"

Best wishes,
Mr Pitchford
